"During my time in Arizona being treated for metastatic breast cancer, Phoenix Cancer Support Network was there when I most needed help and assistance. Whether it involved arranging for transportation, which enabled me to buy food and vitamins, or it had to do with offering companionship and support for doctors appointments,

I felt a great sense of relief being able to call an organization that's focused on fulfilling many basic needs during a difficult time.

With neuropathy affecting my legs and feet, Jenny Martin, PCSN's founder, was also able to procure an appointment with a physician who might be able to help me -- something which has been difficult for me to do at this time. I am forever grateful to Jenny and the volunteers of PCSN." --Angelina, PCSN Client
